

Stain and Odor Removal

ServiceMaster Clean
Residential
Services

Owners of even the best kept homes and the best house broken pets will occasionally have accidents like pet stains, spilt drinks or odors . Trust our ServiceMaster Clean technicians to treat and remove unwanted, accidental stains and odors.

The best thing you can do is prevent stains by having us apply carpet or upholstery protector after any cleaning. The protectors that we have today will not only repel most stains, but they also can add years of use and beauty to your carpet or furniture.

We are able to remove the majority of spots and stains with our standard cleaning process. Some stains, however, do require specialized treatment and will not be performed or charged for without the prior consent of the customer. We can't guarantee the removal of all stains because some are permanent (such as a bleach stain), but we do have a high rate of success. Remember the need for specialized treatments can almost always be avoided if carpet protector is applied regularly.

If you have a pet, chances are at some point you will have dog urine, cat urine, or pet odors that you can't stand! Call us to get rid of them! Often, the urine is not discovered until long after the accident has happened and the damage from pet stains are dependent upon the pet's age, health and diet. For the greatest chance of complete removal, trust the ServiceMaster Clean professionals to treat your carpet and furniture stains
